YOUNG INVENTORS FAIR: District winners will be encouraged to submit their inventions to the All Metro Young Inventors Fair sponsored by Success Beyond the Classroom. Please note - This year the All Metro Young Inventors Fair will only accept inventions submitted by individual students NOT partner inventions. This is a change from previous years. Young Inventors Fair is primarily an educational program, designed to teach creatively gifted students creative problem solving skills, which they can then apply to some of humankind's real problems. Student inventions are judged by parents, inventors, teachers and other professionals on Thursday, February 24, 2011 and Friday, February 25, 2011. The best 100 are featured, along with the young inventors, at the Best Buy Rotunda @ the MOA in Bloomington on Saturday, April 30, 2011. See www.successbeyond.org for more information.

RESOURCES: Many resources about inventing are available in your school, public libraries and on-line. Each school has a copy of the Young Inventors Fair Curriculum Guide available to teachers.

NOTE: This is an optional, independent project, entirely the work of the student(s). Official rules MUST be followed exactly for the invention to be eligible.

QUESTIONS: Ask the GT Specialist at your school.
